

NINE KILLED IN WRECK

4 BILLION CHEST FOR U. S. NEEDED

Expenditures Forecast by Houston in Speech to Bankers

OUTLINES DEBT PROGRAM

Revenues From Taxes Must be Continued, He Says

WASHINGTON. — (By Associated Press.) — Government expenditures of four billion dollars during the next fiscal year were forecast by Secretary Houston, of the treasury department, Wednesday, in an address before the convention of the American Bankers' association, in which he covered a wide range of financial and economic problems of the nation.

The secretary outlined the treasury's program for handling the war debt, liquidation of which, he said, must go on steadily in order that financial redemption be accomplished without disturbance to national life. He appealed for "the strictest economy not only in our expenditures, federal, state, county and municipal, but also by thrift on the part of our people," adding that the program necessitated the maintenance of taxation "after this fiscal year on a level of not less than four billion dollars annually."

DROP IN RECEIPTS
Mr. Houston said there were indications of falling receipts because there was no means of predicting the course of business or income and profits. The receipts for the present fiscal year, he reported, would be materially lower than the record of $5,500,000,000 last year, expressing the belief that the receipts would not greatly exceed the required $4,000,000,000 under the present levy.

Mr. Houston did not afford to operate on a basis which would leave a reserve below those anticipated, the speaker continued, "and in plans for revision this should be definitely borne in mind."

"Let me make, it point clear in saying that the aggregate receipts for the government should be maintained at a high level for the purposes indicated. I am by no means committing myself to existing schedules or to specific taxes. Much of the war legislation was of necessity hastily devised. I think it of urgent importance that there be prompt resurvey of the situation with a view to a reform of the tax."

SEES DEBT REDUCTION
The treasury's program had been disarranged, the secretary said, by the "heavy burdens imposed by the transportation act."

Mr. Houston predicted rapid reduction in the gross national debt thru the coming year, particularly the $3,500,000,000 short term certificates outstanding. The treasury program, he added, would result in reducing this debt $2,000,000,000, and perhaps to $1,500,000,000.

Turning to the demands of agricultural interests for government help, Mr. Houston said that "scarcely had a reduction in the cost of living manifested itself when every producer manifested resistance."

"Every producer is willing for the products of every other producer to decline but protests the decline in his own," he continued. "There is much human nature in this, but not much reasonableness."

NO ONE TO BLAME
"The situation is the result mainly of war and in no small measure the failure of this nation and nations everywhere to date to devise better arrangements for storage and marketing of farm products. For these things no one is particularly to blame."

"In the circumstances, it seems to some farmers that they are in the way of being hit first, if not exclusively. They are naturally distressed and are seeking relief measures, some of which are not practical, and some of which are suicidal."

"The first impulse of many who are searching for the way out is to turn to the government, and especially to the treasury as the sole instrumentality for full economic salvation. This disposition, well developed before the war, was reinforced during hostilities by practices of the government, which became necessary for the successful prosecution of the war and the preservation of national life."

"It is the same disposition which causes resort to the government for all sorts of appropriations, many even of a purely local character. It is this disposition rather than self-aggrandizing efforts of federal departments to extend functions which is the main explanation of mounting federal budgets and of centralizing tendencies frequently criticized."

"If there is a fault, and I think there is, the blame rests largely with the public, which remains quiescent while interested groups are clamorous. When the people realize this fact, there will be a remedy and not until then."

Y. M. CLERK ARRESTED
NEW YORK. — Arthur McCoskie, clerk in a Y. M. C. A. building, was arrested Wednesday charged with taking $980. from the association. McCoskie's home was in Cincinnati, and detectives said they had admissions from a young woman there that he had sent her the money.

FORMER LEADER REMOVED

European Politics Reported to be the Underlying Cause

STRUTHERS, O. — (By Associated Press.) — Fifteen armed men are standing guard day and night in Holy Trinity Slovak Roman Catholic church here, to prevent the entry of Rev. John Frena, appointed head of the church by Bishop John Farrelly, Cleveland, to succeed Rev. Joseph Zahlers, who was removed.

When Rev. Frena appeared Tuesday to take charge of the church, a crowd of parishioners, armed with clubs and stones, hastily gathered, and their spokesman informed the priest that they would not recognize his appointment.

European politics is said to be the underlying cause. Rev. Zahlers is known as a supporter of Slovak autonomy, while the new appointee is identified with the movement to keep the Czech-Slovakian union intact.

Attorney John Wills, counsel for the church trustees, says that the removal of six members, all the parishioners are supporting their former leader and will not permit anyone to take his place.

BIXEL IS AGAIN INDICTED

Up for Parole Prisoner Faces
Federal Charge

John Bixel, former president of the defunct National bank, Bluffton, was indicted at Toledo Wednesday by the federal grand jury on charges of intent to defraud and embezzlement.

Bixel is now serving a term in the Ohio penitentiary. Ten days ago application was made for parole for Bixel. The hearing will be on December 2.

It was on November 9, 1919, that Bixel drove to Lima and placed his automobile in a garage here. The next morning, November 10, the bank at Bluffton failed to open its doors. A receiver, Paul C. Keyes, was named for the bank. Two weeks later Bixel returned to Lima and gave himself up.

He was indicted by the grand jury on several counts for embezzlement. He made a plea to the court, when he told of investments made in a sugar and coffee plantation in the south and how he was swindled out of money.

He was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the penitentiary. Before leaving, Bixel spent a day and night with his family at Bluffton. He drove to Lima the next day and rode to Columbus with Sheriff Charles Baxter to enter upon his term.

With the indictment returned by the federal grand jury, Bixel will be placed on parole. He will probably have to face the charge of embezzlement there.

BLAST KILLS 400

Coal Mine is Wrecked by Explosion in China

PEKIN. — (By Associated Press.) — A gas explosion and fire in the Tong-Chan coal mine in Chi-Li province killed upward of 400 Chinese laborers on Thursday last, but news of the accident reached here only Tuesday. There were 115 survivors. An official report by the mining company places the dead at 422.

The explosion occurred in next to the lowest level, smoke causing most of the deaths.

Grief-stricken crowds surrounded the mine, carrying off the victims as they were brought to the surface. It is reported that 180 mules were taken out Sunday.

"HOOVER REPUBLICAN"
DECLARES FOR COX
NEW YORK. — Democratic headquarters today made public an open letter to Herbert C. Hoover, from George W. Bacon, "lifelong Republican and active supporter at the Chicago convention of the candidate of Mr. Hoover," asking what statement of Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican presidential nominee afforded a basis for reasonable hope that the League of Nations would be brought into being if the Senator were elected.

BRITAIN'S LABOR WAR GROWS

Transport Workers Vote to Join in Mine Walkout

EXPECT OTHERS TO FOLLOW

Negotiations for Peace, However,
Are Under Way

LONDON. — (By Associated Press.) — While negotiations which might settle the strike of British miners were Wednesday believed to be assured, strength has been added to the force of striking coal diggers by Commercial Road Transport Workers voting to join in the strike of miners.

The London branch of the Commercial Road Transport Workers' union has already voted to strike out of sympathy with the miners, but the strike order was held up until after Wednesday's meeting of that body. A walkout of this union would involve upwards of 180,000 men in arduous parts of England.

Further curtailment of shipping services is also impending. The Transport Workers' union has not taken definite action on the situation as yet, but there is some apprehension that it may join forces with the coal diggers.

DESIRE FOR PEACE

Government officials and labor leaders who outlined their positions before the opening session of parliament have shown their desire to reach an understanding. Belief was general Wednesday that proposals were in preparation by both sides.

Premier Lloyd-George has definitely declared he is ready to enter into negotiations, but he has laid emphasis on the fact that the government wants a final settlement of the differences, which brought about a cessation of work in British mines last Saturday. He has stated plans for a tentative wage increase, pending a complete adjustment, would not be satisfactory as that method of meeting the present situation would threaten trouble later. Coal production, he holds, must be augmented, and he may submit some proposals which will deal with this phase of the situation.

GOOD OMENS SEEN
Wednesday morning's newspapers comment appreciatively on the calm and dignified tone Tuesday in the house of commons, and the absence of provocative words. This fact is regarded as a good omen.

One possible basis for a settlement is set forth by the Daily Mail, which says if the miners are willing definitely to agree that an advance of two shillings given now may be withdrawn at the end of December, if production is not increased by that time, the government will consider such a proposal. The government, however, will inflexibly insist upon its position regarding production, the newspaper says.

One of the strongest rumors relative to a possible settlement comes from South Wales coal field, which has been recognized as the main center of disaffection and extremism. A Cardiff despatch to the London Times says it is stated there the end of the deadlock may be reached in three or four days.

CHILDREN SOON TO REACH RUSSIA

U. S. Returns Youngsters Without Release of Americans

RIGA. — (By Associated Press.) — Preliminary arrangements have been made for the return to Russia of 781 Russian children who were taken from Vladivostok by the American Red Cross and brought to Europe by way of the Panama canal, according to Col. F. W. Ryan of the American Red Cross, who has just returned to this city from Helsinki.

The steamer bringing the children to Europe arrived at a Finnish port on October 13, and the children are now being housed at Hillila, near Viborg.

Fifty of the little Russians are ready for repatriation, and will be taken across the frontier at Terijoki, as soon as the bolsheviks send a commission to receive them. Others will be taken to the frontier as soon as soviet agents give proof that they have located the children's relatives who will receive them.

Altho many Americans are being held in Russia, the United States government is turning the children over to the bolsheviks without demanding that Americans be exchanged for them.

SEEKS DIVORCE AND HER MAIDEN NAME

Three divorce cases were filed in common pleas court Wednesday and each couple of the three was married at a Gretna Green, where marriages are easily incurred, and few questions asked.

The last case was that of Faye Jandelit against Eugene Jandelit. They were married in Monroe, Mich., December 10, 1917, and have no children.

MASTERS 12 LANGUAGES AT AGE OF 12, BOY IS ENTERED AT UNIVERSITY

NEW YORK. — Master of 12 languages, keenly interested in batting averages, but more devoted to the game of marbles when played for peeps, 12-year-old Edward Roehle Hardy Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Roehle, of this city, Wednesday qualified as the youngest freshman that ever entered Columbia University.

The youthful prodigy is five foot three inches in height, weighs 143 pounds and his mother said, is perfectly normal in appetite, habits and recreation. He spends a great deal of time in the university swimming pool, when not engaged in reading Babylonian tablets, investigating the fourth dimension or delving into other erudite subjects.

Edward started to school at the age of three and bounded over three classes a year, graduating from high school at 11. His popularity and modesty were proved by the fact that he was elected editor of his school newspaper and was a leader in school social activities.

"TRAP" STORY IS RIDICULED BY COX

Will Demand Harding Reveal
Identity of "Spokesman"

OWES IT TO PEOPLE, HE SAYS

Democratic Nominee Wants Details Brought to Light

ENROUTE WITH GOVERNOR
COX, PROVIDENCE, R. I. — (By United Press.) — Governor Cox declared Wednesday he would demand the identity of the persons who gave him the impression that France would look with favor upon the Republican candidate's proposal for a new association of nations.

Cox attacked the "French spokesman" as vigorously as he could after the Daily Mail, which says the French minister of foreign affairs, while appearing that the principals in the dispute between President Wilson and Senator Harding over the incident were content to let it drop, Cox believed there were many details of the episode which he regarded as was evidently determined to bring them to light if possible.

Cox read the statement made in Marion in behalf of Harding by Judson C. Welliver, Republican publicity director, who charged that Cox had deliberately sent Maurice De Kobra, a French laborer, to New York with the intention of having him see Harding and represent himself as speaking for France. Welliver charged that De Kobra never saw Harding and that the Democratic candidate's "trap" was a failure. Cox ridiculed the statement.

PREFARES MORE BONDS
"I believe the American people and the French government are entitled to know who is consulting with Senator Harding informally regarding our international relations," the governor said.

He was preparing to ask more verbal bombs in the direction of Ohio during the day in connection with the Harding-Wilson controversy.

Cox faced a busy day of speaking in Rhode Island, Massachusetts and Connecticut, where he is scheduled to appear at Providence, Blackstone, Mass.; Wilmamantic, Manchester, Hartford, New Britain, Bristol, Waterbury and Bridgeport, Conn. Most of his stops are at industrial centers and he has expected to stress the legislation he has put in Ohio state books for the relief of the working man, in addition to his plea for the league of nations.

HEALTH MEN MEET

Many Counties Represented at Gathering Here

Thirty county health commissioners representing that number of counties in the northwestern part of Ohio are in Lima Wednesday attending a conference in Memorial Hall.

The meeting was called to discuss health conditions throughout this section of the state and make co-operative plans for checking any epidemic that might possibly become a rage during the fall and winter months.

One of the most distinguished health men attending was Dr. F. W. Man, representing the state, county of health.

At noon they dined at the Y. M. C. A. as guests of the Allen-Cox Board of Health. They were then thru the Y and all were more than pleased what Lima has to offer to properly care for her men and boys.

TWELVE WAYFARERS AT DEBATE, SAYS JUDKINS

"The appearance of the Lima Wayfarers' Club at the Lud-

At the appearance of the Lima Wayfarers' Club at the Ludwig-Trubey debate, an attempt to swing sentiment to the Republican side of the debate over the arguments of the speakers were presented, is being denounced by members of the organization who believe in fair play and democratic tactics, said L. E. Judkins, a member of the organization and a member of the house committee Wednesday.

"Twelve of the 150 members of the Wayfarers' Club attended the Ludwig-Trubey debate."

DEATH REVEALS DOUBLE LIFE

David S. Paul Friendly to Number of Women Unknown to His Wife, Authorities Learn, in Probe of Mystery Killing in New Jersey

CAMDEN, N. J. — (By Associated Press.) — Beyond establishing to their satisfaction that David S. Paul, the bank messenger, whose body was found last Saturday buried in the Jersey pines, had led a double life for several years, and was friendly with a number of women unknown to his wife, Camden and Burlington county authorities said Wednesday they had made but little progress toward a solution of the mystery surrounding his death and the disappearance of $10,000 he was taking to a Philadelphia bank.

It was established thru Frank James, an automobile salesman, that when Paul boarded the ferry boat the day of his disappearance, he planned to meet two women in Philadelphia. Prosecutor Walverton said that James told him he had driven Paul to the ferry, but had refused to accompany him across the river. Paul told him, according to the prosecutor, that if he went along he might "be able to frame up a party."

A number of persons, including three women, have been questioned by Prosecutor Walverton in the hope they might be able to throw some light on the mystery, but none of them, he said Wednesday, were able to furnish any important clues. One of these women admitted she wrote the unopened love letter found in Paul's pocket.

EVIDENCE FOUND
It is "almost certain, the police say, that Paul's body was taken to the place where it was found in an automobile, and it also is certain that he had been dead only about 24 hours before the body was found."

What was considered an important piece of evidence was found Tuesday near the spot where the body was discovered. It was a blood-stained shred of tape, torn from the upholstery of a automobile seat. Some papers, including an identification card containing Paul's name, also were picked up in the vicinity of the shallow grave.

BOARD OF FOREIGN TRADE URGED

$100,000,000 Organization Proposed to U. S. Bankers

WASHINGTON. — A proposal for the organization of a $100,000,000 corporation for foreign trade financing under auspices of the American Bankers' association, was put before the annual convention of that body Wednesday by its committee on commerce and marine. By co-operation with merchants, manufacturers, exporters and producers, the report said, and taking advantage of the Edge law, the corporation could issue a billion dollars in debenture bonds for sale in the United States and the extension of credits abroad.

John McHugh, chairman of the committee presented the report, which recommended steps to put the corporation into business operation by Jan. 1, and solicitation of subscriptions to its capital stock from the public.

"We recommend the organization under a plan of a large corporation as preferable to a smaller one," the report said, "because it will attract the best expert talent, will have the efficiency attaching to large organizations, will give the merchant, producer, the investor and will the more readily create a market for its debentures by its aroused purpose of creating a 'thrill'."

The report said the economic future of the United States was "bound up in the future of our trade relations with other peoples." Under existing conditions, it added, manufacturers "unable to grant foreign customers credit necessary to continue foreign purchases, have been forced to restrict their activities in the foreign field."

"Under the Edge law, such a corporation as contemplated would be permitted to issue debentures against foreign securities, carefully purchased by it to the amount of 10 times its capital so that it would have a maximum ability financially of about a billion dollars," the report said.

It was further suggested that the corporation distribute its made up from similar geographical areas to those of the federal reserve bank districts. The committee said it was "satisfied such a corporation would be successful from a financial standpoint, and would be a potent influence in promoting thrift and production" in the United States.

OHIO MASONS MEET

COLUMBUS. — Nine hundred Ohio Masons are here Wednesday attending sessions of the Ohio F. & A. M. Grand officers and district lecturers were here Tuesday holding meetings and arranging for Wednesday's sessions. Mayor Thomas welcomed the delegates Wednesday morning at Masonic temple. 17 INJURED WHEN TRAINS CRASH

Passengers on New York Central Collide at Erie Pa.

BABY IS AMONG THE DEAD

Several Badly Hurt, in Hospitals,
Expected to Die

ERIE, Pa. — (By Associated Press.) — Nine persons are known to have been killed, and at least 17 injured when a Chicago and Boston limited on the New York Central railroad sideswiped the Buffalo-Cleveland train, westbound, at the west end of the union station here Wednesday. Four of the bodies taken from the wreck are those of women.

Some of the injured are so badly hurt that hospital physicians said they expected the list of casualties to be increased.

TWO DEAD IN HOSPITAL

The body of a baby recovered from the wrecked car, belonging to the total known deaths to seven, and a few minutes later word was sent out from St. Vincent's hospital that two of the injured had died. This made a total of nine deaths, according to the authorities.

Early reports to railroad men were that a party of signal repairmen working at the station had become confused when they saw the two passenger trains coming from opposite directions and one of them was throwing a switch when the train from Buffalo rushed by. The next instant the crash came. One of the dead was believed to be a signal man.

DEAD AND INJURED

The identified dead: Gaspard Deschamps, Missoula, Mont. Also, Carlson, aged 4, Sebeka, Minn.

Mrs. Rose Rodgers, Cincinnati, is among the injured. Others injured were: Gideon Carlson, Sebeka, Minn.; Mrs. Gideon Carlson, Sebeka, Minn.; Burke Tokio, Brandy, Ill.; Iowa; Mrs. Jack Hansen and infant son, Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. J. C. Seaton, Chicago; Alma Formach, Sweden, George W. Andrews, Buffalo; Mrs. Findlay Woods, Gallatin, Ill.; Walter W. Richardson, New York City; Ida C. Myers, Chicago; Mrs. C. C. Slag, Mark, Ind.

The Chicago and Boston express ran thru an open switch not far from the station and sideswiped the train from Buffalo on its way west. The third day coach from the engine was overturned, and all the casualties are believed to have occurred there. Rescue forces were quickly at work and in a short time six bodies had been taken out.

Parts of another body, rescue workers said, were in plain sight, but they had so far been unable to extricate it from the wreckage. The dead in some instances were badly mangled.

Fifteen of the injured were removed to hospitals, some of them physicians stated, so badly hurt that their recovery was problematical. So far as could be learned none of the passengers on the eastbound train were hurt.

27 INJURED IN WRECK

CLEVELAND. — (By Associated Press.) — Twenty-five persons were injured, four or five seriously, and two probably fatally, when a Lake Erie & Wheeling passenger train crashed into a switch engine and caboose near Harvard-ave and East 102-st Wednesday morning.

The injured are in St. Alexis, St. Luke's and Charity hospitals. Two of those hurt suffered internal injuries and it is feared they will die. Others suffered fractured legs and severe cuts and bruises about the head, face and body.

THREE DIE IN WRECK

ROANOK, W. Va. — (By Associated Press.) — Three trainmen were killed, five others injured, and several passengers shaken up in a head on collision between two Norfolk & Western passenger trains early Wednesday at Rural Retreat, Va., according to an official announcement at the railway headquarters here Wednesday. The trains met on a siding.

CRASH KILLS TWO

Auto Wrecked by Speeder in Cincinnati—Hits Pole

CINCINNATI. — (By Associated Press.) — Skidding on the wet wood block paving at a speed said by police to have been at 50 miles an hour in the very heart of the city early Wednesday, a motor car driven by Walter Brock, Dayton, O., smashed into an iron pole, was overturned and wrecked, and a man believed to have been Earl Tobias, of Dayton, was instantly killed. A man whose name is said to be "Deane," also of Dayton, died later, and Brock, also from Dayton, is probably fatally injured.

SUBSCRIPTIONS ASKED

LIBRARY TO GET FINE BOOKS

Will of Veteran Lima Teacher Disposes of Estate

By the provisions of the will of Miss Lucy Hooper, veteran teacher in the public schools, who died October 12, all her books were bequeathed to Lima public library.

Miss Hooper was an extensive reader of only the very best books. Her collection is considered a most acceptable addition to the library.

All the bedding in her late home, 519 W. High-st., was given to Lima City hospital. Miss Hooper gave all her money, notes and real estate to her brother and $500 to Mrs. Catherine May Stephens, a cousin of Selma, Ind. The amount of $500 was set aside for a marker for the graves of herself and mother, at Woodlawn.

Linen was given to Mrs. M. E. Williams, a friend; silver to Mrs. Joseph Bancroft and Mrs. Ella Jones, cousins, Altoona, Pa., and her watch and locket to her nephew, William Jones.

In the case of the death of her brother or cousin, Mrs. Stephens, her property is given to her three sons, Mrs. Bancroft, Mrs. Ella Jones and Mrs. Linda Van Seecoe, the latter of Tyrore, Pa.

Miss Etta Boyzell, life-long friend of Miss Hooper, was named executrix in the will to serve without bond.

MAYOR BURKHARDT SPEAKS BEFORE LIONS WEDNESDAY

Mayor Burkhardt espoused the cause of Daniel B. Bistaf, when he appeared before the local den of Lions at club luncheon Wednesday. He talks on the opportunities for service by the civic clubs of the city and the Lion's club in particular were thoroughly appreciated by the members present.

The speaker spoke of the wonderful work being done by the organization in other cities and urged upon the members to aid in solving the problems confronting the city of Lima. He recited the many ways that Lima already leads and suggested many other improvements that would tend to place Lima at the top.

Rev. Kyle Booth, pastor of the Congregational church was the chairman of the day. The next meeting will be held on Friday of next week on account of the visit to the city on that day of O. C. Norton, president of the Toledo club. W. D. Harman will be the next chairman.

SUED FOR EGGS CLAIMED WERE NEVER RECEIVED

The petit jury which is hearing the case of Storor Bros. Bluffton, against Swift and Co., Lima, produce dealers, will wrestle with the cost of eggs when they make their decision.

Storor Bros. are suing Swift and Company for more than $700, claiming that in excess of 60 cases of eggs they shipped them have never been paid for. Swift and Company claim they never received the eggs.

The jury will be forced to decide whether the eggs reached their destination or were lost in transit and which firm must be the loser. The jury will take the case late Wednesday. The shipment in question was made the week of August 24-31, inst.

MYSTERIOUS RAIN PUZZLES DUBLIN, GA.

DUBLIN, Ga.—A mysterious rain which falls daily on a certain spot in this city, whether it is cloudy or fair, cold or hot, has been going on until he has awakened the curiosity of the people of the neighborhood and started much talk.

On the sidewalk of Columbia street between Franklin and Washington streets there is a spot near a tree where there is a spot near a tree where the rain can be seen falling from about 10 to 15 feet above the ground. It is not a hard rain, but can be plainly seen and felt. Residents in the street say it has been going on this way for two years or more, and so far no explanation of it has been found.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Study It Each Day In The Lima News

In drawing up the Covenant the conferees at Paris did not forget the greatest international agency existing for humanity's sake—the Red Cross.

ARTICLE 25
"The members of the League agree to encourage and promote the establishment and co-operation of duly authorized voluntary national Red Cross organizations having as purposes improvement of health, the prevention of disease and the mitigation of suffering throughout the world."

It was recognized at Paris that the League was not perfect. Even the Constitution of the United States has already been amended 19 times. In providing, therefore, for amendments to the Covenant to the League of Nations the sensible arrangement was made that the Council, on which the United States is to be represented, shall be unanimous, and the Assembly shall poll a majority before any amendment can be ratified. If any nation dissents from an amendment it is exempted from the provisions, altho it must at the same time withdraw from the League.

ARTICLE 26
Amendments to this Covenant will take effect when ratified by the members of the League, whose representatives compose the Council and by a majority of the members of the League whose representatives compose the Assembly.

Thus ends the greatest peace program ever devised by man.

CHINESE TAKE TO WRIST WATCH

Bracelet Idea Proves Popular With the Celestials

CHICAGO.—Wrist watches suddenly have achieved wide popularity in China, according to a recent report of United States Consul-General Pontius Sartorius. Inconveniences make the wrist the only convenient spot on which a Chinese man can carry a watch successfully. American manufacturers have built up an extensive trade with China in clocks. The clock that hangs on a wall and speaks the time to eye and ear sold readily. But when the manufacturers attempted to introduce the pocket watch they ran foul of an international obstacle in Chinese clothes, whose voluminous folds make a pocket an abysmal mystery. A Chinaman had not the time to learn the time when the process involved fishing a watch from the cryptic depths of his flowing garments. This difficulty pocketed the foreign trade in watches beyond hope until the wrist watch came into the world-wide vogue as a soldierly convenience during the war.

The sartorial problem that made the pocket watch impossible in China bids fair to establish the wrist watch as the national time piece that eventually will consign to disuse the pocket watch and the sun dial which still lingers in this ancient land as the customary device for recording time.

SHIPPING SLUMPS IN JAPAN

Amalgamation of Big Concerns Declared Only Solution

TOKIO, Japan.—The absorption of three large shipping concerns of the granting of Government aid weeks in Japan, according to shipping authorities in Tokio and Yokohama. The slump in shipping here, due to over-building of vessels by Japanese companies during the war period, has caused several companies to tie up their ships, while three large firms—the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, the Kokusai Kisen Kaisha and the Osaka Kisen Kaisha—are reported to be ready for amalgamation by the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, Japan's largest shipping firm.

What the various concerns desire is Government aid, but, as this is apparently not to be had as it was for the silk business, it is believed in Tokio that amalgamation is as sure a way to get the aid. The Japanese Mercantile Marine favors amalgamation rather than nationalization of shipping, and, as he is in a position to carry a great deal of influence, this fact is given by shipping men as an added reason for the belief that amalgamation of the four big companies will come in the near future. Two of the firms to be absorbed are the giant ship firm of Japan, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, are said to be ready to give up their rights to separate existence. These two, the Toyo Kisen Kaisha and the Kokusai Kisen Kaisha, are both reported to be in difficulties. The Toyo Kisen Kaisha has long been one of the big lines serving the trans-Pacific trade, and its disappearance from the port of San Francisco would doubtless be an important fact for shippers there. The Osaka Shosen Kaisha, however, does not seek absorption, as it has been newly subsidized and is said to be in fair condition.

PACIFIC MERMAID AFTER NEW SWIMMING HONORS

SAN FRANCISCO.—Altho she was recently united in marriage to George O'Neill, hotel man, Hazel Cunningham, San Francisco's premier mermaid, holder of a score of distance swimming records, will not forsake the water of the blue sea. Mrs. O'Neill is preparing to negotiate the Cliff House-Ferry Building course, one of the most difficult swimming routes, in the near future. She made the first round trip of the Golden Gate last year and is the possessor of a score of medals and cups for her prowess in the water.

ST. MARYS.—Mrs. Thomas J. Hensch, 61, is dead at her home on South Perry-st. Periculous anaemia was the cause. Surviving are the husband and two sons. Funeral Thursday afternoon.

WAPAKONETA.—Thieves attempted to steal seven-passenger auto of Amos Bowsher, Lima, but owner notified Sheriff Ora Hinton in a hurry and he scared 'em away.

ST. MARYS.—Florence Knuck, Washington, D. C., and Lillian Fisher, Noble-twp., were married July 14, in Newport, Kentucky, according to their own statement in a made public. They meantime lived at their respective parental homesteads.

MEN AND MATTERS

E. Wood Bancroft of Columbus, who was in the service overseas and comes with ability to recite first hand facts, will speak at the West Cairo M. E. church at 7:30 Wednesday evening, on "Evangelicalism and World Conditions."

Attorney R. S. Steiner, formerly a prosecuting attorney in the state of Montana, now practicing at the Allen-Cox bar, will give an address Sunday evening at the First Congregational church, Elizabeth-st., near Market. His subject will be, "The Criminal and Religion." He will draw his conclusions from his four years of work as prosecutor there.

L. C. Bushaw, new Y. M. C. A. secretary, will tell of the work of the Young Men's Christian association in Lima. The hour of service is at 7 o'clock.

Carl K. Allen, Lima violinist, has entered upon the vaudeville stage with "Dot Marcelle's Five Raspleckers" and is expected to play in this city soon. He joins the act in Pennsylvania.

GIRLS BAN FALSE HAIR ADORNMENTS

BOSTON, Mass.—Begone ye false hair adornments! This or some other shrill war cry like it is on the lips of the girls of the College of Liberal Arts, Boston University, whose natural curls and waves are the envy of their sister students in other colleges hereabouts. The freshmen particularly are of the bone of the "permanent wavers" and shoo-it to shoo-it advantage at their Gamma Delta initiation by the sophomores.

When the rites are over the girls will be permitted to remove their green hair ribbons and put up their curls.

BUDGET IS BELOW EXPENDITURES

Financial Condition of Italy is Shown in Report.

MILAN.—The budget of the Italian Government for the present fiscal year shows a total revenue of eleven billion lire against a total expenditure of twenty-five billion, but the financial future of Italy, one of the keenest sufferers from the war, is not discouraging.

Such is the view of Professor Arnaldo Agnelli, Under-Secretary of State for the Treasury, stated in an interview. The view strikes a note of optimism in Europe's financial discord, because Italy has been considered the weak link in the economic chain, and the nation most threatened by Bolshevik tendencies.

"For the present year," Agnelli said, "we can calculate on an increase in revenue of four billion lire over the previous year. The great impulse to the revenue is due to the firm hand and determined will of the present government. The Giolitti Cabinet had decided that all war excess profits should be confiscated by the State.

"Therefore, we can look forward with full confidence of faith. On the whole, the situation is very far from discouraging.

"There is urgent need for activity in every field of our economic life. We must endeavor by every means to improve our exchange with American, British and French currency. Our export trade is already on the increase."

Italy is convinced that trade with Russia is a necessity in the campaign of post-war revival.

"I have been authorized by Signor Giolitti," said Professor Agnelli, "to accept three conditions put forward by the Italian cooperative representatives. These are:

"That regular fortnightly communication be established between the Black Sea ports and the Italian ports.

"The Soviet representatives in Italy to be fully assisted by the Government officials and the experts belonging to private enterprises.

"Telegraphic and postal services to be guaranteed at once by the Ministry concerned."

MONTANA TRAVELERS FIND WAY TO SAVE MONEY

HELENA, Mont.—Many traveling men and others who use railroads frequently in Montana are buying tickets to points just within the boundary lines of the state stopping over between trains and buying new tickets to destinations outside the state.

The saved has been to increase the sales of railroad tickets at all points in Montana for local hauls and cut down the sales of tickets outside of the state.

Travelers discovered the big saving when the Montana Railroad Commission refused to grant the railroads a 20 per cent increase in rates on the grounds that a state law will not permit the increase.

The commission also denied the applications of carriers to increase Pullman and parlor car fares 50 per cent.

TEN CONFERENCES WILL BE HELD ON MINING

DENVER, Colo.—Ten national conferences, correlating their work in one final convention, to discuss problems dealing with national and international production of metals, coal, petroleum and lumber will be held here the week of November 15.

The meeting, fostered by the American Mining congress which has called its 23rd annual convention to meet here that week, will be one of the most important of its kind in the country, it was stated.

The question of standardization of all mining equipment, safety codes, methods of accounting, labor saving devices will be one of the important ones to come before the conference.

Col. Daniel B. Wentz, president of the National Coal association, is in charge of arrangements for the conference of coal producers, anthracite and bituminous. Gold producers of the country and bankers interested in production of the further depletion of gold reserve will be in session three days.

THREE CANDIDATES FOR SECRETARY OF COMMERCE

No action was taken by the board of directors of the Lima Chamber of Commerce toward employing a new secretary at a meeting held at the Lima club Wednesday, further than to hear a report of the committee appointed to make investigations. The names of three men were presented, whose qualifications are being investigated.

Lewis C. Thigley, secretary of the Xenia Chamber of Commerce was highly recommended by the manager of the Dayton chamber, E. L. McCollum. The other men under consideration are H. E. Watkins, of Albuquerque, N. M., and a New York man recommended by Congressman Daniel A. Reed. His name was not made public.

The board voted for the chamber to have representation in the proposed Lima welfare federation. A favorable report on the condition of the Lima Short Notes Products Co. was made by the committee appointed to make an investigation at the last meeting of the board. Efficient management and satisfactory volume of business for the future are among the points brought out in the report.

COL. WHITTLESEY BOLTS HARDING

NEW YORK.—Two more nationally known Republicans have bolted the party and Harding on the League of Nations issue.

One of them is Lieut. Col. Chas. W. Whittlesey, former commander of the "Lost Battalion." It will be remembered that Whittlesey, surrounded by the Germans, and called on to surrender, sent the reply, "Go to Hell."

The other is Frank Hunter Potter, known throuout the country as an authority and writer on naval topics.

In announcing his position on the fessor Irving Fisher of Yale is one of the candidates and the League of Nations, Colonel Whittlesey said:

"I don't think that this or any other country can stop the ultimate operation of the league, and I think the sooner we get into it the better it will be for the world. For that reason I am going to vote with the party that wants the League of Nations now.

"Opposition to the League of Nations is simply the manifestation of a reactionary spirit with which every great movement in history has had to contend."

Potter has joined the organization of Pro-League Independents, of which Pro-leaders. In a letter to Professor Fisher, Potter said:

"Yes, I am a Republican and I am going to vote for Governor Cox.

"I am one of those who think that the most important thing in the world just now, when Europe is a slumbering volcano, is to minimize war.

"Governor Cox says he will advocate going into the league, with necessary reservations, if he is elected. Senator Harding says he will have nothing to do with the league, but will organize an association of nations of his own.

"I shall vote for Cox. I don't see how I can do anything else."

WE DELIVER

OPPORTUNITY WAS AT FESS' DOOR

It Knocked Loudly With a Reward of $25,000 Cash

"Congressman Simeon D. Fess, on the occasion of his address at Memorial Hall one evening last week, quite deliberately refused or neglected to enrich himself to the extent of $25,000," said Calvin Selfridge, chairman of the Democratic county central committee, when his attention was called to the fact that while Mr. Fess may have thought he was taking votes away from Governor Cox and assuring them for Senator Harding, the reverse was quite the case in at least one instance.

One of his auditors, after the Memorial Hall meeting, said: "I had intended to vote for Harding, but since hearing Fess I have decided to vote for Cox." That there are others who felt the same way about it, is reasonable to believe.

"Our friend Fess," Chairman Selfridge said, "was supposed to discuss the League of Nations, but he didn't. He gave nearly all of his time to the popular Republican pastime of assassinating the character of President Wilson and all but charging that he was a traitor to America. About the only reference Mr. Fess made to the League of Nations was a supposed quotation from a statement by Elihu Root something about 'sovereignty and peace of the nation being imperiled.'"

"That old threadbare argument having been shattered positively had conclusively, time after time, it was a sad blow to Simeon and other mis-representatives when there appeared in the public prints the same day that Mr. Fess visited Lima the offer of a cash prize of $25,000 by the Pro-League Independents, headed by Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale University, to anyone who first could prove that the League of Nations would 'abridge the sovereignty of America.'"

"Mr. Fess probably didn't have the courage to carry on the deception of his own account, but in a cowardly manner hid behind Elihu Root, who voiced the sentiment before his hand was called by Pro-League Republicans and Independents. Mr. Fess lost a fine opportunity to win $25,000. All he had to do was to prove his charge against the League. And the offer remains open until October 22. The former Lima man still has time to make good and win the money—if he can—and he can't."

Men and women voters of Lima who were out of the city or confined to their home by illness on all four registration days, can get special permits to register and vote, at the office of the Board of Elections, on Saturday, October 30, between hours of 10 a. m. and 12 noon, and on Monday, November 1st, from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m., at the office of the board, rooms 311-14 Holmes building.

Transfers will be issued on Monday, November 1st from 2:30 to 5:30 p. m. at the regular registration places in each precinct.

On election day, November 2nd, the voting places will be open from 5:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., central standard time.

Cox and Harding Club Heads

HECKLERS ANNOY SPEAKERS

Both Win Generous Applause
From Large Audience

Thru failure to offer any definite Republican constructive policies the political debate at Memorial Hall Tuesday night was capped by a great number to have been won by L. E. Ludwig, president of the Allen County Cox Club, over R. R. Trubey, president of the Allen County Harding Club.

The crowd that packed the hall was declared to be equal to that which welcomed Governor Cox last Thursday. It proved an enthusiastic audience and freely cheered when the debaters clashed on timely subjects.

HECKLERS BUST

Hecklers frequently annoyed the speakers and at several times during the debate the speaker was interrupted by a loud chorus of "No!"

The question on which the two party club leaders debated was: "Resolved, That it is the best interests of the United States to elect at the coming November election a Democratic president and a Democratic congress."

In opening the affirmative side of the question, Ludwig declared he was speaking from a strategic point as it was not certain who of the twelve stands on the League of Nations which Senator has taken that would be followed in the debate by his opponent.

As an introductory statement,

Ludwig said: "I want you to judge the Democratic party in the light of the works that it has accomplished. I want you to judge its promises for the future by its performances in the past."

LEAGUE IS BIG ISSUE

Opening his side of the debate, Ludwig lost no time in bringing before the crowd the League of Nations as the paramount issue of the present campaign.

Trubey described the covenant as a document of international tangles which would not only oblige the United States to suffer from disturbances in European nations.

"The covenant of the League of Nations is the greatest document written by the hand of man since the Declaration of Independence and the constitution of the United States. It ranks beside the Magna Charter," Ludwig said.

"Before this election came on, ninety percent of the people of the United States were in favor of it. But it has been made a political football by politicians. It has been misrepresented. It has been lied about, and it has been misquoted."

Turning to his opponent, Ludwig said: "You say you are against the League of Nations? Do you know WHY you are against it?"

Continuing, he said: "In the name of humanity, in the name of Christ, in the name of the God of the Stars, I appeal to you to do all you can to understand this great League of Nations."

"Don't be misled by a few cheap politicians who are willing to barter away the lives of your boys and the peace of the world just to be elected to offices that they will dishonor and disgrace."

FACTS TO REMEMBER

Throughout the course of this debate I want the audience to remember and bear in mind these certain facts:

(1) "That Mr. Trubey will have much to say in criticism of the League of Nations."

(2) "That Mr. Trubey will have nothing constructive to offer. That his argument will be all negative and destructive."

(3) "That Mr. Trubey will be in the position of all Republican speakers; he will have no definite plan to offer in place of the League."

(4) "He will be in the position of the late Col. Robert G. Ingersoll in religious matters. He will take away but will leave nothing in place of what he took."

(5) "If he runs to the form of Republican speakers, he will cry 'Wilsonianism,' 'Democratic Extravagance,' 'Return to the Constitution,' 'Come Back to Normalcy,' and other like meaningless phrases. He will offer nothing constructive."

"Republican speakers call it a Wilson League. Why?"

ATTEMPT TO EVADE A QUESTION, LUDWIG SAYS

"I want you to tell the members of the American Legion how Mr. Harding voted on the bill to increase the pay of overseas privates $50 per month, and if you don't tell them, I will tell them in my second speech."

This is one of the questions put to R. R. Trubey by L. E. Ludwig in the debate at Memorial Hall Tuesday night, which Mr. Trubey failed to answer, due to "lack of time."

A Lima morning paper states that Mr. Ludwig said: "Senator Harding voted against the soldier bonus bill." Mr. Ludwig made no such statement, he says.

Here is the answer to the first paragraph above, which the Republican debater failed to answer and which Mr. Ludwig was denied the right to answer by the chairman of the meeting, Col. A. E. Gale, because it "is a new subject matter and out of order."

"On September 7, 1917, Senator Harding proposed an amendment to the revenue act raising the pay of soldiers serving abroad by $50 per month. Harding voted against it."

"They call it a British League. Why?"

"They call it Anti-Irish. Why?"

"They raise legal, technical, and constitutional tangles, which they themselves cannot answer and then they say if you don't understand it, vote 'No.'"

"They say it will beget war because they want to beget war to prove that Wilson and Democratic leaders were wrong."

"Then they say if we get in the league we cannot get out. They don't tell you that any nation can withdraw from the league after two years notice."

"I have prepared my case the best I know how to prepare it. I have my material here at hand. I have data available. Mr. Trubey will present the case of the senatorial oligarchy."

RIGHT DENIED

After presenting numerous questions which his opponent failed to answer, Mr. Ludwig was not allowed to answer them by the decision of Chairman Gale who held they were new subject matter and out of order.

Trubey handled his side well, but like all Republican speakers, he was handicapped by not having sufficient definite material to offer against Ludwig.

He freely pointed on the League and made President Wilson the center of his attacks and pictured him as the lone sponsor of the great international document.

He said: "Wilson alone asked for the League of Nations. He forced it thru the council after other nations of the world had repudiated it and what it represented."

"Japan didn't favor it, but changed her mind when she was allotted Shantung with 36,000,000 of her enemies to rule over."

"In the League of Nations, America is on the par with Panama, Haiti and all other minor nations of the world."

A demonstration was staged in the hall by a delegation of 12 or 15 young men representing themselves to be members of the Wayfare's Club. They had large banners with "Trubey" displayed boldly in large letters.

The Republican defender frequently read clippings from the Lima News and Times-Democrat which he described as articles misrepresenting the real issues of the League of Nations.

STRAW VOTE SHOWS

HARDING WILL LOSE HIS OWN COUNTY

MARION.—Fear long held by Marion-co Republicans that Senator Harding in the coming election will not be able to carry his own county have been growing recently with the taking of straw votes thruout the county.

In nearly every vote taken, the majority of the voters has expressed a preference for Governor Cox. Results of the vote reveal the fact that Senator Harding, in former elections, has failed to carry even his own precinct in Marion.

Votes from Marion and Marion-co published in a Columbus newspaper showed:

Section men, Hocking Valley railroad, Prospect, Marion-co; Cox, 33; Harding, 6.

Erie railroad shops, Marion: Cox 121; Harding, 39.

General canvass, Prospect, Marion-co; Cox, 30; Harding, 27.

MESSANGER SERVICE MAIN 1902.

SUSIE SMART HEARS BIG DEBATE

Yes, I heard the big political debate at Memorial hall Tuesday night. It was a roaring success. The roaring war divided about 50-50.

If there were anyone in Lima who didn't try to get inside the hall or close to a door I failed to miss them.

I can't tell you who won the debate. The editor says not to. I think he's jealous.

There were a lot of funny sights. I saw one divided house. The woman insisted upon cheering one of the speakers every time he made a point and her husband was pretty sore. He kept arguing with her but I saw who was boss.

Then there were a whole family of small debates going on in various corners of the hall and corridors. You could hear all sorts of political questions being thrashed out. Some of them were amusing. One man was pretty indignant during one argument and said he didn't have any use for anyone who said anything against the present administration. I didn't hear anyone accept the dare.

It wasn't like the old time political rally or debate. I didn't see an intoxicated man and I'm quite sure none of the feminine politicians were that way. It was more like a big neighborhood gathering, neighbors listening to neighbors and for that reason there was none of the stiff formality you see when some dignity is speaking.

The hot air was all wasted so far as I'm concerned. It didn't change my mind. But then I'm not old enough to vote anyway.

I think the talk that the people have made up their minds how they're going to vote November 2 is all bunk. You wouldn't have thought so if you had been lucky enough to get inside the hall and had seen the keen interest in every argument. Looked more to me like the people don't know just how they will vote but want to get as much information as possible before deciding.

One thing I noticed was that the women are not such ignoramuses as some men would like to make out. They know what the speakers were talking about—you could see that. Guess we'll be able to show some intelligence in casting our ballots. (But that doesn't get thru for I've been told to be neutral.)

The police didn't take any chances. Looked to me like the whole force was there, but the usual rally fight was lacking.

Those good looking girls on the stage might have looked out of place to some of the old-time politicians, but they're all maneuvering for their votes.

WORK PROGRESSING.

The committee appointed to draft a constitution for the proposed Lima welfare federation has its work well under way. Secretary Irvin B. Lincoln of the Lima chamber of Commerce announced Wednesday, and it is expected to make a distribution of copies to all welfare bodies in the city, before the next meeting, tentatively set for Friday, October 29.

Walt Parmenter is chairman of the committee.

Interviews With Governor Cox

By J. W. FISHER

GUARDING A CANDIDATE This isn't exactly an interview with the Governor, but it's about the Governor. The "hero" of this particular narrative concerning the daily life of the nominee of the Democratic party for the Presidency of the United States during the campaign, has to do with the part played in the state tour by an unusually avowed, good natured and kindly but very firm individual who never at any time, when the Governor is "on the road," absents himself very far from the side of the famous Ohioan.

This individual is Peter Albanese, of the secret service, whose watchful eyes seem to be everywhere. Getting aboard the Governor's special, past this guardian of the personal safety of the nominee, isn't an easy task for anyone who "doesn't look right," as Peter stated it.

As I climbed aboard the special at Van Wert, the officer interposed no opposition. Maybe it was a smile of reassurance that I gave him which paved the way so nicely.

"The Governor is taking his breakfast," Peter said, "in the diner ahead," accompanying the information with a nod of his head in the right direction.

"Thank you, I'll find him," I answered and hurried along, fearing the ogre officer might change his mind and turn me back. But he didn't and I afterward thanked him for it.

"Is everything all right?" I asked Albanese while the train was bowling eastward from Middle Point. The secret service officer seated on a camp stool on the vestibule platform of the Governor's car. "Fine," he said.

"We have to be careful," Peter said. "If everybody who tries to get aboard this train was permitted to do so, there'd be no room for members of the party." Besides, there's the danger of cranks coming aboard for an ulterior purpose."

CLOSE MEXICAN GAMBLING HOUSES

MEXICO CITY, Mexico.—Mexico's reforms under the new regime are extending to the closing of the gambling houses at Tacubaya, in the outskirts of Mexico City and elsewhere.

Tacubaya has been a sort of "Monte Carlo" for years. The gambling houses have been much frequented by rich Mexicans and foreigners and tales of large sums lost at the tables are frequent.

NO MONEY FOR PRINTING.

Safety Director Fred H. Fisher announced Wednesday the safety department has no funds with which to print the new traffic ordinance in pamphlet form, for distribution among motorists, as recommended by the city council Monday night.

Fisher declared he will prepare a recommendation for council to be presented at their next meeting.

To Our Friends; To Our Patrons; To the Public in General:
On Thursday, October 21, 1920, The Harvard Clothes Shop
Begins a Gigantic "Cut-Price" Event to Reduce Our Stocks

FIRST SALE IN 13 YEARS

This is the first sale since we started in business—we never had occasion to run a sale. But times have changed—the uncertain conditions forced us to buy too much clothing—we must reduce our stocks—hence we will make this first sale a wonderful success. Over 1,000 Suits and 500 Overcoats in stock.

CAMPAIGN SALE

WATCH DISPLAY CASES

Every day during this sale we will show in our front Display Case an unusual bargain—you will surely be surprised at the low price. We ask you for the sake of economy to come to our store every day and see what is being offered. The trip will reward you and you will be happy to be able to buy goods at such prices. Watch our display cases.

The Political Campaign to elect a new president is on—the people are soon to make a choice between two rival candidates, interest is keen; no one can predict who will be victorious. You have the preference; everyone has; your better judgment will decide your choice. This advertisement is not for any political purposes. It is not our aim to mix in politics. This campaign is launched for a bigger business to reduce our stocks. This is a direct appeal for your patronage. Regardless of the choice of your president, men—we want you to make this store your choice for your New Suit or Overcoat. We must reduce our stocks and the prices show our efforts.

DONAHEY COMING FOR SPEECH

Candidate for Governor and Others Here Thursday

Citizens of Lima and Allen-co., irrespective of party affiliations, are greatly interested in the coming of A. Victor Donahey, Democratic candidate for governor of Ohio, to this city on Thursday, for an address at Memorial Hall at 7:30 p. m.

"Citizens from all walks of life will support Mr. Donahey as against his opponent, Harry L. Davis, on account of the record of Davis for inefficiency and waste of the people's money while mayor of Cleveland for the reason that Davis ran riot in that city under his administration." Chairman Louis Miller of the Democratic committee said Tuesday. "It is feared by law-abiding citizens of the state that as governor, Davis would permit the same things that were had in Cleveland to extend all over Ohio."

"Donahey's splendid record as auditor of state is known to all citizens and there is a disposition on the part of Democrats and Republicans alike to reward service well done. That Mr. Donahey will receive many thousands of Republican votes is apparent from reports we have received. Here in Lima many Republicans are openly working for the election of Donahey," Mr. Miller said.

Accompanying Mr. Donahey to Lima will be Congressman John Small of North Carolina, chairman of the Rivers and Harbors committee; Chas. Orrig, hero of the Argonne, who lost a limb in the fighting there, the Democratic candidate for treasurer of state; Miss Halsey Wilson, secretary of the National Women Suffrage League.

Mr. Donahey has recovered from a week's illness and is again actively campaigning. It is assured that he will be here Thursday evening for an address.

Seat sale for Matineer Concert for Women's Music Club. Members will be held in Memorial Hall on Saturday, October 23, hours 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Sale for non members on Monday, October 25, Memorial Hall, hours 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Tickets to non members $1.50 and $2.00, including tax.

"Flat foot," which has been the subject of such interest and concern for the past four years, is often an outcome of "weak foot."

When your feet pain all over at times, the heels ache, walking or standing tires you quickly—these are indications of weak foot.

He examines your feet free

Attend to this trouble immediately! A Dr. Scholl expert from Chicago, here for a limited time, will tell you free of charge just what to do to halt the development of "flat foot."

Probably you have some other form of foot trouble, such as corns, callouses, bunions, crooked toes or weak ankles. This expert knows just what to do to give you quick relief and correct the underlying cause.

Come in while you have the chance to talk to this man who is trained in giving Foot Comfort Service.

Many friends of Dr. George Hall and Mrs. Hall called at their home, 866 Bellefontaine-ave., Wednesday to express the kindest of good wishes about the anniversary of their golden wedding. Fifty years ago in Lima, the two were married and together, down life's pathway they have trod the way devotedly together.

The rooms of the home were resplendent with flags and bunting the national colors abounding everywhere. The large porch was enclosed and here the national colors were hung. Autumn leaves, fall flowers and blossoms from both house and garden lent their charm to the scene.

At the luncheon hour they were surrounded by members of Mrs. Hall's order, the Ladies of the Grand Army and soldiers of the Civil War. In the afternoon, from two to five they received informally and Wednesday evening the Domestic Science club and their husbands will pay them tribute.

From far and near came expressions of good wishes in celebration of the day and they were remembered by many beautiful gifts. Dr. and Mrs. Hall are among Lima's most widely-known and admired residents.

THE PALACE OF DARKENED WINDOWS

BY MARK HASTINGS BRADLEY

The encounter in the street that Thursday afternoon ought to have resulted in Billy Hill being taken to the police for the privilege of bowing to Lady Clara and her valet, but Billy, who was a young German, scrupulously sober, soberly apologetic, in formal state to Billy's hotel upon Friday morning, to be Frederick von Paderborn, whose speech proclaimed him to be a young man of his own untoward behavior.

"I was not myself," he owned, with a sigh and a melancholy twist of his upstanding mustaches. "I had been drinking alone—and it is hard to drink alone when one has a headache. One drink—two, for get. . . . But you are too young to understand." He waved his hand in complaint to Billy's youth, then continued, with increasing energy, "But when I find what dizziness I have done, whose speech proclaimed him to be a young man of his own untoward behavior."

"Indeed no! Would I," he struck himself gloomily upon the breast, "would I intrude upon a young man, and attack her protector? It was that bottle—that last bottle. . . . I know—and at the time. . . . I offer you my apology. I can do no more—unless you would have satisfaction—no?"

"I guess I had all the satisfaction that was coming to me yesterday," said Billy. "You've got a fist like a professional. But there's no harm done. . . . Only you want to get over taking that last bottle and offering presents to young ladies," he concluded, with an accent of youthful severity.

The German nodded a depressed head. His melancholy, bloodshot eyes fixed themselves sadly upon Billy. "Ach, it is so," he assented meekly, "but when one has a headache. . . . Yes, of course, that's tough," agreed Billy sympathetically. "I hate a headache."

"Perhaps you have known—" The other's eyes lifted toward him, then dropped dispiritedly. "But, no, you are too young. . . . Ach!" He added in his own tongue a line of which Billy caught gleets and gleets, and so nodded understandingly.

"That getting business is bad stuff," he returned, and again the other tugged at his mustaches with a nervous hand and shook his big blond head.

"She was to have met me here," he said abruptly. "She wrote—I was to come quick—and then she came not. That is woman. . . . The wife-like. . . . Billy heard himself sigh in unison. The phrase suggested Arlee. And the situation was not dissimilar. He felt positive sympathy for the big blond fellow in his pronounced clothes and glass boots and careful boutonniere. . . . He smiled in friendly fashion.

"She'll come along yet," he prophesied, "and if she doesn't, just you go out after her. I wouldn't take too many chances in the waiting game."

The German shook his head. His blue eyes swam with sentimental moisture. "You do not understand," he said. "She went with another—I must wait for her to come away. I have no address—no?"

"Well, that—that's different," stammered the young American. His sympathy became cynical. Fishy business—but even a fishy business has its human side. So presently he found himself gazing interestedly upon the photograph the German displayed in the back of his watch—the photograph of a delectate young woman with provocative dark eyes and parted lips and pearl like teeth, and he shook the other's hand most heartily in parting, and prophesied, with fine assurance, the successful end of this fishy romance.

"You have a heart, my friend," said the German solemnly, and lifted his hat and stuck and lemon-colored gloves from the table, he bowed profoundly in farewell.

"And to the Fradella—you will give me so deep apology?" he added earnestly, and Billy assured him that he would. And he found himself, for all his preoccupation with the vision of Arlee's spring-like beauty, by no means displeased at the errand. A man must have something to do while he is waiting—if he is to avoid last bottles. He would seek her out that very afternoon.

But by afternoon he was tearing upstairs and downstairs thru the hotel after a very different quarry, which he had no time to search at a tiny table behind a palm on the veranda. The quarry was further protected by an enveloping newspaper, but Billy did not stand on ceremony.

"I want to talk to you," said he. Falconer looked up. He recognized Billy perfectly, though his gaze gave no admission of that. This tall young fellow with the deep-set gray eyes and the rugged chin and the straight black hair he first remembered seeing dancing that Wednesday evening with Arlee after their own disastrous tea and its estrangement. Arlee had appeared on mystifying good terms with, the he was positive from his own observations and had corroborated from the Paderborns, she had never spoken to him until five minutes before. Then the fellow had fairly grided the Paderborns about the girl's whereabouts last night. And he had learned that the previous afternoon he had managed to take Clie's protection upon himself in the bazaar, actually convincing her that she ought to feel indebted to him, and had driven back with them. . . . An unabashed intruder, that fellow! He ought to have a lesson.

His air of unwelcome deepened, if possible, as Billy helped himself to a chair, drew it confidentially close to him and cast a careful glance about the veranda.

"I don't want anybody to hear this," he explained.

Falconer smiled cynically. He had met confidential young Americans before. There was nothing they could sell him.

"It's about Miss Beecher," Billy looked uncomfortable. He hesitated, blushed boyishly thru his tan, and blurted, "There's something mighty queer about that departure of hers yesterday."

"Ah!"

"I don't feel right about it. . . . It's deuced queer. She isn't in Alexandria."

"Ah!"

"If you say 'Ah' again, I hope you choke," said Billy violently to himself. Aloud he continued, "I wired to the Khedivial and to all the other hotels—there are just a few—and she isn't registered there, and the Maynards are not either."

"Possibly staying with friends," said Falconer indifferently. He regarded his paper.

"Very few Americans have friends in Alexandria. However, that might be so. But no ship has arrived from the Continent for three days, and it seems mighty odd, if they were there three days ago, for them to have wired at the last minute and had her tear off like that."

"I do not pretend to account for your compatriot," said the sandy-haired young man.

Billy looked at him a minute. "There's no use in your being disagreeable," he remarked. "I didn't thrust myself upon you because I was attracted to you, at all. But I thought you were a sensible, masculine human being who was interested in Miss Beecher's whereabouts."

"I beg your pardon," said the other young man. "I am—I mean I am interested—if you think there is anything really wrong. But I do not see your point."

That's mother's advice to young housekeepers. And mother knows from experience.

It is a duty you owe yourself to visit your dealer and have him show you Shott's "Double Ease" Bed Spring. Have him show you the good points, then you can decide for yourself whether you want to purchase an ordinary bed spring with only 90 steel springs or the Spring with 520 live steel springs.

Because of the 304 patented connecting springs there is no side sway. Unequal weights are taken care of—no rolling to center.

Shott's "Double Ease" Bed Spring fits any bed. It is sanitary, easily cleaned, vermin proof, heavily enameled and easily handled.

TOLEDO RAIL-LIGHTS ARE CARDED FOR GAME HERE SUNDAY

TIFFIN FOOTBALL SQUAD MEETS CENTRAL HI ON LOCAL FIELD SATURDAY—PETER MANNING COPS 2:14 TROT IN STRAIGHT HEATS

TOLEDO RAIL-LIGHTS PLAY HERE SUNDAY WITH LOCAL TEAM

Just the same as the dessert is always held until the last of a meal, so has Manager Holloran held his best treat for Lima baseball fans until the last.

Next Sunday at the Murphy-at ballpark, Lima fans will be given an opportunity to witness $1,000 worth of baseball when the Toledo Rail-Lights will match their wares against the local Independents.

Now perhaps, $1,000 worth of baseball sounds awfully large to the average Lima-size fan. But it's the truth. For the price Manager Holloran will pay the Toledo aggregation he could, a few weeks ago, procure most any major league team which happened to have a off day in this vicinity.

The Toledo Rail-Lights need little introduction to local fans. Prior to the last two seasons that organization has been booked pretty regularly in this city. And not once in that period has a Lima bug, no matter how rabid he might be, kicked with the brand of ball produced by this outfit.

During the past two seasons the Rail-Lights have played ball in every state in the Union. Two majority of times they have been victorious, and as a result the aggregation is laying claim to the semi-professional championship of the country.

However, there are two other teams in this part of the country who claim that honor. The White Autos of Cleveland, and the Dayton Triangles. All these teams have met the local gang, and each time they have found a sweet battle on their hands.

"Flash" Gilbooley, of the New York Americans, will again be seen in action with the locals. This lad in the three games he has performed here has tossed the plate 16 times. Fourteen times he has hit safely, and once has he sacrificed. Thus he is counting the old pill at an 833 clip. Gilbooley has been receiving a bonus from the local management, and this has had a tendency to widen the big leaguer's batting optic.

Otto Neu, who as a utility player with the Cleveland Indians shared in the World's Series money, has been obtained by the local management for the remainder of the season. Otto, who is a brother of Marty Neu, of the Independent clan, will take care of the shortfield.

Confidence is being expressed by Holloran that his clan will give the Rail-Lights a fast run for their money. Fans who have been informed of the coming battle are pulling hard for the locals to win, citing that the Independents will have a claim on this semi-professional title if they can vanquish the gang from Toledo.

Needless to say that the Rail-

Lights will journey to this city with the best stock they have in trade in an effort to stem the onslaught waged by the locals.

The game will be called at 2:00 o'clock. The Razor will handle the indicator. As the season is practically over, it is estimated every baseball fan in Lima and surrounding country will journey to Murphy-st. park Sunday in an effort to witness what will perhaps be the final game of the 1920 season.

PETER MANNING AGAIN WINNER IN 2:14 TROT

ATLANTA, Ga.—Peter Manning, world recordholder for three beats in his division had things his own way in the 2:14 trot, which was the feature event on the Grand Circuit card at Lakewood Tuesday, winning first money in the $2,500 stake race, in straight heats. Piloted by Stokes, the Murphy gelding's best time was 2:06 1-2, made in the final heat.

In the 2:09 class pace for a purse of $1,000, Jay Brook, driven by Edman, took first money in straight heats. Little Watts, with Russell driving, was an easy winner clear through the three heats of the 2:16 class trot, which was a special event for southern horses, for a purse of $1,000, with $500 added money.

The first accident in connection with a harness event on the Lakewood oval took place in the 2:15 pace, when in the second heat, Prince Regal, an Elberton, Ga., horse, piloted by Rogers, spilled and piled up just after rounding the quarter post. The pacer and his pilot were able to limp in. Summary:

TIFFIN NEXT ON CENTRAL'S SCHEDULE

Central fans and football team are beginning to wonder what kind of a team it is that is coming here next Saturday. Tiffin is the visiting aggregation and it was Tiffin that overwhelmed South Hi last Saturday by a score of 62-0.

The queer part of the tangle is that rumors are current that Fostoria defeated Tiffin some time this season by a score of 64-0. If this report is true Tiffin must have improved remarkably lately for Fostoria is not said to have a championship team.

Coach Detrick and the varsity, however, don't care how big or good they are for they believe in the doctrine: "The bigger they are, the harder they fall."

LINE STRENGTHENED

Central's line is being strengthened this week. Robinson, last year line candidate, is out on the field now as well as other promising material.

South Hi is all set to whip themselves into shape to defeat Delphos for the second time this season having defeated them in the opening game of the year.

Delphos is reported to be in much better condition than when they last played South and the game will probably be a hard fought battle.

Bluffton Hi after defeating South and a small team by a good score, wish to get a game with Central this year. Central is disappointed that they have no open dates left and cannot play Bluffton for the Central team would like to get revenge for the defeat handed them by Bluffton last year.

SCHOONERS TO STAGE RACE

GLOUCESTER, Mass.—"Give us good sea weather, and we'll make the international cup races look like a pink tea," said the Gloucester fishermen when they came in from the banks late Monday to prepare a welcome for the Nova Scotia fishermen who are due in Gloucester tomorrow to complete arrangements for the race between the American schooner Esperanto and the Canadian challenger Delawanna.

At the conference tomorrow the local fishermen expect to ask the Canadian challengers for a series of three races. The date of the meeting, it was said, also will be decided. Dimensions of the contesting schooners were made public tonight as follows:

Esperanto—Net tonnage, 93.33; Length, 107 ft. 4 inches; Breadth, 25 ft. 4 inches; Depth, 11 ft. 4 inches. Delawanna—Net tonnage, 95; Length, 106 ft. 8 inches; Breadth, 26 ft. 3 inches; Depth, 10 ft. 4 inches. Esperanto was hauled out of the water today, and seamen began cleaning and overhauling it for the contest. It is expected the schooner will be ready by the end of the week.

AT FOOTBALL CAMPS

NOTRE DAME

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—Battered and bruised from the conflict with the heavy Nebraska eleven, the Notre Dame squad was given a light workout Monday. Kiley, end, and Begree, guard, were unable to report for practice and will be out of the game for ten days. Kiley is suffering from a nervous shock and Deezee has a dislocated knee. Coach Rockne is well pleased with the victory over the Cornhuskers and is confident another week of practice will find the team fit for the Army and the three "Big Ten" opponents. Valparaiso will play Notre Dame here Saturday.

IOWA

IOWA CITY, Iowa.—Heavy hearted, but not hopeless, Iowa players resumed practice Monday, after the disaster at Urbana. Coach Jones will attempt to strengthen his defense during the next few days, even if he has to change his personnel. He was not wholly satisfied with the defense against Zuppke's men. All Hawkeye participants in the Illini battle were able to practice today, although several were laid out during the Illini game.

ILLINOIS

URBANA, Ill.—All Illinois players with the exception of Captain Johnny Depler emerged from the Iowa battle Saturday in perfect trim. The big Illini leader is suffering with an injured hand that may keep him out of practice for a couple of days. Zuppke sent his warriors thru a lengthy signal session Monday. Ralph Fletcher alternated with Don Peden at left half and Hank Reith took Depler's place at center. Otherwise the team was identical with the one that started the Hawkeye game. The men were given a thorough drill in a number of new formations that Zuppke intends to spring against the Wolverines Saturday.

OHIO STATE

COLUMBUS, O.—All Ohio State players came out of the Purdue game in good condition and Monday were started on their preparation for the game with the Badgers here Saturday. Wilce's men were not forced to show any of their trick plays against the Boilermakers and consequently have a lot in reserve for Wisconsin. Wilce's offensive tactics for the coming game will take into account the puny backfield of half a dozen men—the fastest and most slippery Wilce has ever had. The line demonstrated its power of defense by stopping the Purdue shift and in making holes for the backs to get thru for long gains.

MINNESOTA

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—The Gophers came out of the Indiana game in far better shape than they did the Northwestern tussle. It

BASKET BALL BREEZES IN NORTHERN

ADA.—At a recent meeting of the Ohio Athletic Conference Managers Association, faculty manager Slessman was very fortunate in arranging the following basket ball schedule for the season of 1920-21 for Ohio Northern. All indications point to a successful season.

Dec. 18 — Baldwin-Wallace at Ada.
Jan. 15 — Otterbein at Ada.
Jan. 19 — Heidelberg at Tiffin.
Jan. 23 — Kenyon at Ada.
Jan. 28 — Wittenberg at Springfield.
Jan. 29 — Capital at Columbus.
Feb. 5 — Wesleyan at Ada, (under consideration).
Feb. 11 — Hiram at Ada.
Feb. 15 — Wittenberg at Ada.
Feb. 19 — Toledo at Toledo.
Feb. 23 — Kenyon at Gambier.
Feb. 26 — Otterbein at Westernville.

was revealed when they resumed practice Monday for the Illinois game October 30. However, it is almost certain that Arnold Oss, considered the greatest football player Minneapolis has had since the days of Wyman and Boston, will never again play a Big Ten game. The fleet back fielder is on crutches now and probably will be for another week as a result of an infection in his leg. Eddie Ruben is getting back to normal condition and McClintock's injured ankle is healing rapidly. The workout Monday was light. Dr. Williams pointed out the boys' faults Saturday and gave them a snappy signal drill.

INDIANA

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—When the train pulled into Bloomington at 4 o'clock Monday morning bringing a special sleeper in which was quartered the Indiana university football squad, returning with the scalp of the Minnesota eleven, several hundred crimson students with the band of 100 pieces were at the station to give the returning heroes a big welcome. The car was sidetracked and plans of the team to sleep until daylight were thwarted. A door of the car was burst open and the tired players asked to dress hurriedly. They were carried on the shoulders of happy fans to trucks and from there to the campus where the biggest bonfire of the season was lighted. The procession first moved over downtown streets and the whole city was awakened by the noise. There was no practice today.

AUTOIST KILLED

CINCINNATI — Earl Tobias, 30, Dayton, was killed here early Wednesday when his automobile collided with a telephone pole. Walter Beck, of Dayton and an unidentified man, companions, are in a local hospital, with fractured skulls. Both are said to be in a critical condition.

BALL WAR LOOMS AS CHIEFS HOOK HORNS; WANT JOHNSON OUT?

CHICAGO.—Something like the proverbial calm followed the storm raised by the prospect of a baseball war and a new twelve club circuit as a result of Monday's conference of club owners to rehabilitate the sport in popular favor.

President Johnson of the American league, who returned to the city yesterday to appear before the grand jury, declined to comment in any way on the action taken at the conference by the National league clubs and the Chicago, Boston, and New York clubs of the American league. He said he would have a statement to issue in a day or two after his return from another out of town trip.

NO STATEMENT FROM DUNN

President J. C. Dunn of the Cleveland club, one of the five absentees from the rehabilitation conference, also declined to issue a statement at this time. He was in conference during the morning with President Johnson.

President Snyder of the National league, who remained in the city to go before the grand jury, issued a formal interview of a pacific tone.

In part he said:

"It is a declaration of principles, not of war. Protective measures, however, have been provided for any eventuality. If it does mean war, then the responsibility must rest with those who chose to remain aloof from the councils of their friends and business associates at a time when the integrity of the game was at stake."

"WELCOME" ON THE DOOR.

"At no time has it been, or will it be the purpose of the National league to interfere in any manner or endeavor to dictate to the American league or any of its clubs as to the conduct of their own affairs."

"Rather than war, I say the door of welcome is wide open, and we again place with all to take their proper place in line and so present a united front in this fight for the common good."

The only belligerent note was the report that President Comiskey of the White Sox had issued an ultimatum that he would close the Sox park next season if Ban Johnson was retained as president of the American league. This was hastily disclaimed by friends of the Old Roman, who pointed out that he already had signed the new agreement which left the door open for the rest of the of the American league to come in prior to Nov.

WOULD INJECT POLITICS

It also was pointed out that this would lower the work of the conference from the high plane of rehabilitating professional baseball to a mere matter of politics—the question of ousting Ban Johnson from professional baseball.

Several club owners remained over to appear before the grand jury, among them Barney Dreyfuss of Pittsburgh, and Charles H. Ebbets of Brooklyn, both of whom left for their homes last night. President Ebbets let loose a possible straw to show the direction of the wind by announcing that he would retire from baseball if he could get his price for the Brooklyn club. Ebbets has been thru several wars.

"POLITICS," SAYS GRIFF

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Clark Griffith, president-manager of the Washington Americans, declared that the five American league clubs not represented at yesterday's meeting in Chicago were not opposed to a reorganization of baseball.

"We want a complete housecleaning," Griffith said when informed of the action taken at Chicago, "but we think it would be best to wait until all the evidence is in."

Griffith asserted that the Chicago conference was a "political affair." The three clubs participating, he added, are seeking to oust Ban Johnson as head of the American league.

SPRINTER DROPS DEAD IN RACE

CHICAGO.—G. Waldo Galvin of Marshalltown, Ia., freshman track athlete at University of Chicago, dropped dead after running a mile in training yesterday. He took a short workout with the cross country team, running from Bartlett gymnasium to the Midway. He dropped in front of the gymnasium after returning.

Dr. Dudley B. Reed, university physician, said heart failure undoubtedly caused death, but that Galvin had passed a perfect physical examination two weeks ago when he entered the university from Gettysburg college, where he was freshman track captain last spring. Galvin lived at 5531 Kimbark avenue.

VIOLA DANA GIVES LIFE TO PLAY

She's Real Tom Boy in "Dangerous to Men"

BACHELOR GETS HARD JOLT

Picture at Sigma Certain to Please Patrons

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)
HO YOU'VE seen the plot of "Dangerous to Men," filmed many, many times, it gains a new freshness and interest when the principal character is played by little Viola Dana. It's bound to intrigue you, no matter how much you've seen it done.

The story is just like this: Little Eliza is a tom boy school girl, who, much to her disgust, finds herself thrust into a household as his ward, at the age of eighteen. Of course, the bachelor expected a little blue-eyed, freckled-faced kid, and when the grown-up Eliza arrives, is plans and equilibrium are both upset to some extent.

Eliza proceeds to raise a lot of mischief. She thought she was dressing and behaving so badly that no man would ever want her, but on the contrary, she discovers that she has seductive charm, etc., and that the old bachelor's heart goes flip-flop when she's around.

All of which leads up to the grand climax, which, of course, is obvious. Milton Sills, as the bachelor, is there. There? Always. He couldn't fall down if you pushed him. And with the beguiling Miss Dana playing opposite, his work gains a new smoothness.

Everybody who had a hand in the picture knew his business and according to the picture, had strength and plausibility. So, altho, there's not a particle of originality about it, you'll find "Dangerous to Men" well worth your while.

It's at the Sigma.

NEW YORK.—Relatively steady conditions prevailed at the dull opening of Wednesday's stock market. Only a few issues of the speculative variety and obscure specialties, notably International Paper and Union Bag were noticeably advanced. Mexican Petroleum soon advanced 1-2 points and several of the investment rails rose from fractions to a point with steels, equipments, sugars, leathers, tobaccos and local tractions. Foreign exchange reflected the deadlock in the British coal strike situation. Improvement became more general during the morning, steels alone holding back. Under a lead of Mexican Petroleum, oils rose 1 to 1-2 points, motors to 1-1/2, equipments 1 to 2, and shippings and utilities 1 to 2-1/2. Shorts continued to cover their positions in sugar and the recent weakness in chemicals was partly relieved by General Chemical's gain of almost 5 points. High grade and junior issues shared in the rise of rails with Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Wheeling & Lake Erie, preferred, and New Orleans, Texas & Mexico as the outstanding features. Call money was unchanged at 7 per cent, and exchange on London became firm. Trading in stocks Wednesday was almost wholly limited to the professional element, which covered industries and rails. Sales approximated 475,000 shares.

The closing was firm.

MUTT AND JEFF—ON THE OTHER HAND, JEFF CERTAINLY IS ALL DOLLED UP

SHORT SHAVINGS

The sergeant major was a bit of a marionette—it does happen sometimes—and was constantly finding fault with the slightest things.

One day, as he sat in his room in the barracks, he saw a private pass in full uniform with a bucket.

This aroused the sergeant major to a fury, and he promptly dashed to the door and halted the private.

"Where are you going?"

"To fetch some water, sir," replied the man.

"What!" yelled the sergeant major. "In those trousers?"

"No, sir; in the bucket."

The new doorkeeper at the local museum had evidently learned the job by heart before taking over the job.

"Here, sir, you must leave your umbrella at the door," he said to a visitor who was going straight thru the turnstile.

"But I haven't an umbrella."

"Then you must go back and get one," was the stern reply. "No one is allowed to pass here unless he leaves his umbrella at the door."

Several years ago Mrs. Jenkins returned from a trip to the east with a little Chinese orphan baby, now six years old. She wears American frocks and goes to public school, but Mrs. Jenkins has not allowed her to forget her racial ancestry.

A visitor at the house said the other day:

"Well, Tung Pih, I suppose you are growing to be a fine American girl."

The little Oriental gazed at the visitor with an impassive expression.

"No," she said, deliberately. "I prefer to remain as God made me."

BETTER THAN WHISKY FOR COLDS AND FLU

New Elixir, Called Aspirinal, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies, Used and Endorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter if Relief Does Not Come Within Five Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the rear in the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two minute cold and cough reliver, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories, tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.

They end corns now in this scientific way

People who know—millions of them—now end all corns in this way.

They apply Blue-jay either in liquid or in plaster form. It means but a touch and takes but a jiffy.

The corn pain stops. Then the Blue-jay gently undermines the corn so it loosens and comes out.

The modern way

Blue-jay was invented by a chemist who studied corns.

It is made by a laboratory of world-wide repute.

Old-time treatments were harsh and inefficient. Blue-jay is gentle, quick and sure.

Now all corns are needless. All these pains can be avoided. To let corns remain while you pain and pad them is folly.

You can stop a corn ache the moment it appears. You can end a corn completely before it can develop.

Blue-jay has proved these facts to millions. It will prove them to you—and tonight—if you let it.

Quit the old methods of dealing with corns and see what this new way means. Your druggist sells Blue-jay.
